A HEAVY INCREASE

COL. JUDSON BELIEVES IMMIGRANTS ARE COMING.

The Lewis and Clark Fair is a Great Drawing Card—Easterners Will Take Advantage of Low Fares to Come West and Remain—The Inclement Weather Prevailing in the East Has a Tendency to Encourage Emigration to the Coast.

Col. R. C. Judson, industrial agent for the O. R. & N., who came to Pendleton last night on business, predicts a heavy increase in the population of the Northwest next year. "Of course the Lewis and Clark fair," said the colonel, "is the drawing card for next year, and a great deal of travel will be simply to view the exposition. But there will be settlers and home-seekers who will take advantage of low rates in order to come West to remain permanently."

"The blizzards and storms that are raging in the Middle West and East now are going to cause a great many people to desire a more congenial climate, and when they come West in the early spring they will want to stay. From the cold and snow to the balmy, spring-like climate of the Pacific coast, with its flowers and birds, will be too much, and thus we shall gain more neighbors."

Colonel Judson has been ill for the past three weeks and his present trip here marks his first appearance since taking to his bed.

PETITION FOR DIVORCE.

Wife Deserted After Six Weeks Wedded Life.

When F. B. Van Cleave took his bride he swore to love, honor and cherish her as long as life should last. In fact, Van Cleave thought that his cherishing and love would not end even with death. But not for long did his obligations weigh him down. Six weeks later he was gone from the side of his wife, and he has never returned.

Ella Van Cleave this morning filed action for divorce. She states in the complaint that she married F. B. Van Cleave November 14, 1902. He deserted her without provocation on December 28 of the same year. Exactly a year she waited his return, and when he came not she sought the courts for her release.

The largest amount sent in was from one enterprising agent who contributed $146 to the fund. The money was displayed in the front window at the Woodward & Clark drug house, and was a drawing card at that corner all day. Last year the "bargain day" receipts were but $6000.

INSPECTORS AT WAR

DR. McLEAN SAYS NO MANGE IN CONDON CATTLE.

State Veterinarian Says the Government Inspection of the Reynolds Herd Was Unjust—Declares the Cattle Were Suffering From Lice and Fleas and Were Run Down in Flesh, But Were Free From Disease—Says the Government's Action Has Damaged Oregon's Cattle Interest.

The war between the state and government livestock inspectors has broken out anew, since the finding of Dr. H. S. Hickox, in the case of the Reynolds herd of cattle at Condon.

Dr. E. N. Hutchinson, the well known inspector, declined to pass the cattle last August, because of the symptoms of mange in the herd, and the storm of indignation among cattlemen was so great that Dr. Hickox, chief of the western division of the bureau of animal industry, was called to Oregon to make a personal investigation. He sustained the decision of Dr. Hutchinson, and refused to give a certificate to the Reynolds herd.

Then Reynolds sent for Dr. William McLean, state veterinarian, in hopes of refuting the diagnosis of Hutchinson and Hickox, with the result that McLean pronounced the herd perfectly free from all signs of the mange. In addition to his decision, contrary to that of the government inspectors, Dr. McLean declares openly that the decision against the Reynolds cattle has damaged the cattle interests of the state beyond computation.

In an interview with the Oregon Daily Journal of yesterday, he says: "There was no mange in the herd," said Dr. McLean today. "I am absolutely positive that the cattle were not afflicted with that disease. Mr. Hutchinson conducted his examination in August and I examined the cattle thoroughly in October. If mange had existed in August it certainly would have existed in October, unless something had been done in the meantime to kill it. Nothing was done for that purpose and there was absolutely no evidence of the disease in the herd."

"I did find, however, that the cattle were full of fleas and lice. They were run down physically, as is common with cattle that have ranged as they were. But as for finding a trace of mange in the entire herd I can positively assert that nothing of the kind existed."

"It is of course, impossible to estimate the monetary loss to the cattle men that resulted from such a report, and it is equally impossible to estimate the loss that will follow such a blow to the reputation of Oregon cattle."

BEST TRADE EVER ENJOYED.

L. G. Frazer Says Notion and Stationery Trade Was Extraordinary.

L. G. Frazer, the stationer, says that the holiday trade for the past three weeks has been better than ever before in the history of the city. The holiday purchases this year tended to the more durable and useful articles, such as books, fancy household articles, high class art and other costly and useful things, and not nearly so much to the cheaper and lighter lines of toys.

The book and magazine trade in the city is constantly on the increase, and Pendleton now leads the Inland Empire in the sale of late publications of all classes.

More magazines are sold in Pendleton each month than in Butte City, it is claimed, although Butte has five times the population of Pendleton.

Storm Delayed Trains.

No. 1, the O. R. & N. westbound passenger train due here this morning at 8:50, will not arrive until after 6 o'clock this evening, owing to delays caused by the severe blizzards on the Union Pacific. Local wires were repaired this morning by Lineman Donovan, and business is being transacted as usual through local offices.

Blockhouse to Portland.

It is reported that the old blockhouse seven miles above town, will be taken to Portland and erected on the Lewis and Clark fair grounds, says the Oregon Agriculturist. Major Moorhouse took several views of the old blockhouse and stated that the old building would beyond any question be taken to Portland for exhibition early in the new year.

A CONFIDENTIAL CHAT.

"It's perfect nonsense, Bessie, for you to talk of being laid on the shelf. Why, it all depends on yourself. Forget your worries, your aches and ailments; do as I did, take plenty of out-of-door air, cultivate happiness by not allowing your mind to dwell on the trifles and the worries of life. I sent thirty-one cents in stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for his 'Common Sense Medical Advice,' and found it contained much useful information about the care of my health, about physiology, anatomy, and everything a woman should know. I then decided to write Dr. Pierce and tell him all about my ailments. I received such a nice, carefully considered and confidential letter, in reply, giving me advice about my diet, exercise and all. This advice is free to everyone and I wonder you don't write him at once. It didn't take me many months to regain my good looks. Ever since I was fifteen I have suffered untold agonies periodically but now I am free from pain, worry and bad temper. Occasionally I took Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—for the complexion, and to stimulate the liver. Then I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription three times a day for those womanly weaknesses I told you about. That's my secret of beauty. It's the easiest thing in the world to be happy and keep one's good looks. Look at the thousands of women who have been made well by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription; look how they keep their good looks. Dr. Pierce offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapse, or Falling of Womb which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure."
